The Booth Western Art Museum, an Affiliate of the Smithsonian Institution, hosts the world premiere of the Kenneth M. Freeman Legacy Exhibition - Artist at Work opening on January 16, 2010 and continuing through May 2, 2010 in the newly created Special Exhibition Gallery. This collection is a traveling retrospective of the late Kenneth M. Freeman (1935 - 2008) who had a prolific career as both an illustrator and fine artist, primarily portraying the American West. Artist at Work presents a cross-section of Freeman's lifetime body of work and range of mediums.

Works of Kenneth M. Freeman are in the permanent collection of the Smithsonian Museum, Library of Congress, American Art Academy, and Booth Museum as well as distinguished private collections. Ken was known affectionately as "Rembrandt of the Rodeo" by members of the press. The Kenneth M. Freeman Legacy Exhibition - Artist at Work scheduled opening on the Martin Luther King weekend holds special significance because of Freeman's paintings, sculpture and artifacts portraying Buffalo Soldiers.
